The Pontifical Academy of Social Sciences and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Peru, at the suggestion of Alfonso Rivero, Peru's ambassador to the Holy See, agreed to join efforts to organize an important academic debate on issues of peace, security and development in Latin America. The outcome was the international seminar held in Lima on 28 February-1 March 2011. The Peruvian Center for International Studies (CEPEI), in association with the University of the Pacific, an academic institution that has been following activities in these areas for a quarter century, gave their important contribution. This publication, prepared by CEPEI, was made possible thanks to the generous support of the Pontifical Academy of Social Sciences. It contains the proceedings of the International Seminar, including formal presentations and discussions.
